My next briefing from the team will be later tonight. Unless there is a significant departure from the expected course today, you can expect my next update to be tomorrow morning at approximately the same time. Of course I am open to discussing any of the above in further detail as you deem necessary.

Mike